Subject: Question 2

Mr. Buinevicius,

Please explain to me why Code the Dream is engaging in active defamation of me. You are actively inviting a lawsuit. Did you authorize these messages personally?

Using ACLU First Amendment speech is not “threatening.” It is utterly false and defamatory for you to suggest so.

If anyone feels “threatened,” please cite which precise language I used that was “threatening.” I can understand Daniel Rearick might feel “threatened.” I am “threatening” to report him to the IRS for charity fraud by filing Form 13909. Filing Form 13909 is utterly not a threat.

Does anyone here believe that I have ever done anything apart from being rude and critical? If anyone believes that I’ve somehow threatened you with physical violence, please point me to the specific email and language. Everything has been recorded in writing.

Please cease and desist immediately while taking corrective actions, including a correction and apology on your website without delay.

Rob
